

Our Little Angel

Jessica Bryn Lawson

October 17, 2001 ~ January 28, 2002

Jessica, our darling sweet Angel
You were a special child with a beautiful smile,
We thanked God for giving us a little girl
Not knowing it would be for such a short while.

The entire family knew you were special
But no one could explain exactly why,
For each of us felt a deep love for you
And always found it hard to say goodbye.

While here you touched the lives of many
And will remain in their hearts forever more,
But God had for you an Angelic plan
As he brought you through Heaven's door.

Now when we think about your sweetness
The way you snuggled and your loving touch,
Our hearts fill with sadness and longing
To hold again the Angel we love so much.

But as we face life without you
We'll hold tightly to our memories dear,
Always looking for those heavenly signs
That helps us through each day, month and year.

In our sadness it comforts us to know
You're in your heavenly home above,
While in our hearts we'll hold you close
Knowing we are always surrounded by your love.

Always remember, our sweet Angel
Your place in our heart no one can fill,
You will never be forgotten, little one
Because we love you now and always will.

Written by Brenda Rogers
Jessica's Nana